The here expressed written and spoken recommendations and statements regarding our products are based on extensive research and correspond with our current experiences from textile finishing practice. These guidelines are without obligation - also regarding protective rights of third parties and foreign laws - and they do not relieve the user from carrying out his/her own tests with the products and processes regarding the suitability for his/her applications. We especially assume no liability for application purposes which have not been explicitly specified in writing. We reserve the right for technical changes in the course of new product developments. In case of damage we refer to our General Conditions of Sale and Delivery, paragraph 7.
