

Always looking for Innovations

Worldwide leading product range for ecological hydrophobicity of textiles

Through the use of innovative technologies and years of research in the field of water repellency, we have succeeded in developing a completely new range of products. Textiles treated with EcoPhob products are characterized by particularly high performance and increased permanence.

Dear readers,
dear friends of Textilcolor,

Do you feel the same as me, you can no longer hear the word Corona! Then we have something in common.

We are very proud that in this very difficult year we were able to deliver to our customers more than 99.5% on time.

Our ultimate goal was that you are satisfied with us and that you have no problems with us either. In the next few days, some of you will receive a customer satisfaction survey, I would be very happy to hear from you. We have also been able to implement a lot of new projects in the last few months, let's tackle it together, sustainability and resource efficiency. Your customers will be happy about this news.

We look forward to the next year, not only because there is hope for improvement, but also because we can tackle new topics together with you. Finally a direct exchange between people and friends again.

Stay healthy, we thank you all for your valued cooperation and for the appreciation of our company.

Kind regards
Yours Detlef Fischer
Managing Director Textilcolor AG
